

Come On

Slut

Come get yourself together Let's try the best we might Give answers to the questions we have asked It's their common sense their ignorance to guide us through the night whatever couldn't kill us makes us stronger makes us last we speak a different language and we stand on different feet we're travelling with a different kind of speed in this city in denial in this country full of greed we've forgotten who we are and what we need

come on
please stay cause I'm a little bit paranoid now I'm scared
I'm afraid
once again

we have promised not to follow the blind masses and their hollows
while they're dancing around their kids, their cash, their cars and we have promised to foresake us when this life is going to break us we promised to stay hungry until we pass

come on
please stay
cause I'm a little bit paranoid now I'm scared
I'm afraid
once again

It is the darkness, it's the dawn that leads us to another day the bitterness to guide us through the night it's their common sense, their ignorance that opens up the way as long as we're surrounded by the light