

i've been lot of places with faces from winter to fall the more i might know i admit i've seen nothing at all you're gonna feel it when the rest of the last reputation will fall you might think you know me but know nothing at all whatever it takes to get numb I'll be still number one the older we're getting the less we are able to say all that we can do:

we're taking away what we need us to feed the bad days you're gonna feel it cause the less we let looes and the shorter we stay
the more we will talk though we've got nothing to say whatever it takes to get numb i'll be still number one if i could do it once again i'd change nothing the less we let loose and the shorter we stay

the more we will talk though we've got nothing to say

the less we can feel and the sadder we talk the more we must steal fromt the ones that we love whatever it takes to get numb i'll be still number one
