

100 Billion Watts

Smalltown Poets

From the Father's mind, oh You came to be
Son of Man and Hero of the fight
Greater than True Love's only enemy
You separate darkness from the light

Greater than the strongest power
Greater than the love of a 100 billion hearts
Brighter than my darkest hour
Yeah, You're burning at a 100 billion watts

All creation sighs
Giving witness to the way our yearning hearts will return
And find Your mercy much greater than the good we left undone
A favor human nature never earned

Greater than the strongest power
Greater than the love of a 100 billion hearts
Brighter than my darkest hour
Yeah, You're burning at a 100 billion watts

As the thoughts of God begin to take this shape
The only Son was His perfection, from the first
And everyone who wants to welcome His embrace
Knows the power of the third creation verse

Greater than the strongest power
Greater than the love of a 100 billion hearts
Brighter than my darkest hour
Yeah, You're burning at a 100 billion watts