

A New Beginning

Smalltown Poets

When it's love you're after
And heart break you find
When you tried to catch up
Only to be left behind

When you made your choices
And they brought you here
Surprised by failure
Hope replaced by fear
Oh, oh, oh

When you've walked a hard mile
Will you walk one more
And you have no words
To say what you're looking for

Had your rules and broke them
Can't bear to see your own face
Now when justice accuses
You get a thirst for grace
Everlasting grace, everlasting

A new beginning
Life in Christ is now and ever
A new beginning
With mercy he renews

When your dreams all come true
And your life is full
Then you wake up to find
You can't ignore the pull

When your heart is broken
By a sacrifice
What you've known is dying
You get a taste for life

Everlasting life, everlasting

A new beginning
Life in Christ is now and ever
A new beginning
With mercy he renews

As we put the old away
We begin in Christ today
