

A Thousand And One Nights

SMASH

Darling, the hands of time must always point ahead, yesterday's passed

Today has come and gone, the secret of tomorrow's coming fast
Which bedtime story shall I sing to you when we turn out the lights?

One of eternity or one of just a thousand and one nights?

Is there a mystic with the answers from above?

Is there a goddess with the hourglass of love?

So many questions swirling all around my heart

Is this the end or just the start?

Will I shower you with riches every year the night we met?

Will you take my heart or melt it like it's gold?

Will our love go on forever or is this all that we get?

Is tonight the last or does the future hold

A lifetime of delights

Or just a thousand and one nights?

Darling, you seem to think that I'm the only who has to choose
That you are in control and get to set the rules of win or lose
The bedtime story that I'll sing to you when we turn out the lights

May bring eternity or maybe just a thousand and one nights

There is no mystic with the answers from above

You know the secrets for the way to keep my love

There are a thousand and more ways to win my heart

The list is long but for a start

You can shower me with riches every year the night we met

I may take your heart and melt it like it's gold

Play in someone's perfumed garden and this night's the last you
'll get

Play your cards right and your future just might hold

A lifetime of delights

Or just a thousand and one nights

Just a thousand and one nights

The man who never chooses finds himself without a choice

The lucky ones appear to have it all

The tiger's just a kitten when his tamer finds her voice

I surely will obey you when you call

Then will you shower me with riches every year the night we met

Will you take my heart and melt it like it's gold?

Will our love go on forever or is this all that we get?

Is tonight the last or does the future hold

A lifetime of delights

Or just a thousand and one nights

Just a thousand and one nights
