Raindrops + Sunshowers

The Smashing Pumpkins

Rain falls on everyone The same old rain And I'm just trying to Walk with you Between the raindrops I send my echo out To get your love without Obscured reflections of My love Rain falls on everyone The same old rain And I'm just trying to Walk with you Between the raindrops I'll save a prayer for you So lost and longing to Be dragged thru dirty streets Wrapped up in clean white sheets And if you think they'll watch you now You should know they won't Rain falls on everyone The same old rain And I'm just trying to Walk with you Between the raindrops And I'm just trying to Walk with you between the raindrops I send my echo out To get your love without Obscured reflections of Of my secret love Force down the words about To get your love without Obscured reflections of my love And I'm just trying to talk to you between the raindrops
