

Compromise

Smile Empty Soul

Drive through your neighborhood
You hide like I knew you would
You don't ever call me
You told me to stay away
A game that you always play
I know that you own me

And I'm staring at the walls again
At these pictures that are in my head
When will you realize
Now you're forever mine
You don't have to run
I won't compromise
All that I know is right
You and I are one

I write but you never do
I smile when I think of you
Wonder where you're hiding
And baby when you think of me
Do you cry or do you scream
The path we walk is winding

And I'm staring at the walls again
At these pictures that are in my head
When will you realize
Now you're forever mine
You don't have to run
I won't compromise
All that I know is right
You and I are one

Feeling like a loser
How could you just choose to leave
And change another rule, so bad
Some day I will find you
Then I will remind you
Babe you're the best thing that I have

When will you realize
Now you're forever mine
You don't have to run
I won't compromise
All that I know is right
You and I are one
Yeah, Yeah, Yeah
