

Greatest Hits and Medleys

Smile Empty Soul

I'm feeling the heart that beats around me
The kindling flame to light the way
Through the dark
I try to avoid the signs, they found me
And numbing the pain just doesn't work anymore

Could you break the chains and finally make it possible
For the rain to wash away another scar?
Would you take the pieces I've had broken on the floor
And replace the hurt inside with something more?

I'm walking a line that can be deadly
But trouble is everywhere I see, don't let go
A nightmare of greatest hits and medleys
I've been here before, but I don't know if I believe

Could you break the chains and finally make it possible
For the rain to wash away another scar?
Would you take the pieces I've had broken on the floor
And replace the hurt inside with something more?

Something more

Rain falling around me, not a cloud in the sky
Let acid soak into my bones until the end of time
Oh, no
Oh, no

Could you break the chains and finally make it possible
For the rain to wash away another scar?
Would you take the pieces I've had broken on the floor
And replace the hurt inside with something more?
