

Morning Blues

Smoke Fairies

Hold me now while there's time left for us
When the morning comes I'll be missing your touch
The rising sun's no friend of mine anymore

The rest of the street can turn out their light
But I want to see what will go out of sight
Wish for endless darkness so I could hold on tight

Oh my baby there's so much to loose
And the only thing that stays is those morning blues
Oh my darling I can keep no one
And the only truth I know is in the morning you'll be gone

Empty rooms is all that I have
And the lonely beat
The drip of the tap
It's a welcome heart beat
For someone not coming back

Oh my baby there's so much to loose
And the only thing that stays is those morning blues
Oh my darling I can keep no one
And the only truth I know is in the morning you'll be gone
