

For a few dollars more

Smokie

Rich girl, she buys her dreams
It's a rich world, behind the scenes
Green eyes, they tell it all
The more she takes, the harder they fall

She ain't easy, she ain't tough
She's had it good, she's had it rough
And I guess it don't come too much
But all she's got, she ain't got enough

And she cry just a little for a few dollars more
She'll lie just a little like she's done it before
She'll take it, she'll fake it, for a few dollars more
She'll show you her heart, and then
She'll show you the door
You know she'll die just a little for a few dollars more
Even fly just a little like she's done it before
She'll take it, she'll fake it, for a few dollars more
She'll show you her heart, and then
She'll show you the door

Strange things can happen to you
When you got so much, you got nothin' to do
Noooow, what do 'ya know
How'd ya get there, and there's no where to go

So you wonder, just what you'll do
She's never known love, but then she's never known you
And it's true that those sad green eyes
Are so full of questions, are so full of lies

And she cry just a little for a few dollars more
She'll lie just a little like she's done it before
She'll take it, she'll fake it, for a few dollars more
She'll show you her heart, and then
She'll show you the door
You know she'll die just a little for a few dollars more
Even fly just a little like she's done it before
She'll take it, she'll fake it, for a few dollars more
She'll show you her heart, and then
She'll show you the door
