We're Flyin' High

Did you ever look down on an Egyptian plain Did you ever look down upon the golden grain and if you could find water on that Egyptian plain Would you ever go back there again and did you ever head out across the Aegean sea Have you looked down on a sunrise in the east And if you saw your reflection in that Aegean sea Could it mean that that's where you were meant to be But you and I, we're flyin' high We'll touch the sky We're flyin' high Can you still see the water, can you still see the sands Higher and higher away from the land We were born in the waters, lost in the sands, Now, we're flyin' high
