

When It's the Right Time

Smokie

She's sending out the signals alone again tonight You can see the lifeboats racing in she's forcing mister right But her heart knows the difference when she's trying to pretend she gets hurt, it never works is this never gonna end when it's the right time love rushes in When it's the right time the heartbeat begins There's no rhyme or reason, when the loneliness ends When it's the right time... love wins He's good at being single, you'd think he's on a roll every night a different girl, just someone new to hole He's got every name and number yeah he's had his share But when the morning comes, he wakes up there's nothing really there when it's the right time love rushes in... then just like in the movies from across a crowded room He looks at her without a word somehow they both knew
when it's the right time love rushes in...