

You Don't Know Me

Snak the Ripper

Let's be honest
I never really show you the side of me that's calmest
Underneath this ski mask, look beyond it
I'm a regular dude, don't look so astonished
I can be the man or I can be the beast
But at least understand where I stand my beliefs
Stick to the plan and my plan is to eat
If I fall down I'mma get back up and repeat
So I never try to stop, never could Misunderstood, on the top's where I should
Sick with this shit, got me trapped lookin' hood
Now they act all surprised, like I'm actually good

There's more to me than meets the eye
Ignoring me at least you try
Been storing all this deep inside
Record my peace before I die

Sometimes it gets so lonely
But I won't let that slow me
Even tho my friends and homies
Kinda feels like no one knows me, now

But I wish that they did
I'm that kid on the block with a dream and a skid
Mark on my ass, parked on the grass
With my shorty and a couple of forties, frost on the glass
Got love for my team, yea we rock 'em to death
Chronic smoke in the air, real talk on my breath
But sometimes in the back of my skull
It gets packed full of thoughts that the kid can't control
And did I mention
I never really been in the center of attention
Anxiety, just vomit from the tension
Then drink till my head is in another dimension

There's more to me than meets the eye
Ignoring me at least you try
Been storing all this deep inside
Record my peace before I die

Sometimes it gets so lonely
But I won't let that slow me
Even tho my friends and homies
Kinda feels like no one knows me, now
