Oh oh oh, Mary, Mary

Mary had a little boy but little did she know
That everywhere that Mary went the little boy was sure to go

Mary, a girl at a party Pretty face, fantasy body On the strength girl was fine Mission: make her mine So I stepped to her shyly Before I could speak she walked right by me Frozen, lost my cool Out of the groove, what's my next move Should I chill, should I follow Heart is pounding, I feel hollow Paused, thought for a minute If she was a pool I'd jump right in it So in her path I did step Nervous but I still had pep It didn't matter where she went to I would be there too

Mary had a little boy but little did she know
That everywhere that Mary went the little boy was sure to go

Saw her at the mall
Stand tall, courage don't fall
To her smoothly I approached
Tried to speak and almost choked
Abnormal for the ruthless chiller
Normally I'm a ladies killer
Why were my nerves shaky
I knew she'd make me and not break me

Here she comes, should I talk to her now Yes, it's now or never

Mary had a little boy but little did she know
That everywhere that Mary went the little boy was sure to go
Mary had a little boy but little did she know (oh Mary, Mary)
That everywhere that Mary went the little boy was sure to go (oh Mary, Mary)

Oh oh-oh-oh ooh-oh, Mary Oh oh-oh-oh ooh-oh, Mary

Hello Mary, how's your day
Hope it's going in the right way
How about dinner and some dancing
Later on some romancing
Music, we could talk
And express our inner thoughts
How about it, what do you think
Ended statement with a wink
