

It's not something I need to explain again
I won't be caught inside this time
You can't just leave me having done the hard work
When I don't want anything from here
Stop your stalling
Just give me more than you should
Before we're all in
The same mess I'm in now.

I will not call you cos I know he'll answer the phone
There's something stunning
About the way we lie till it's gone
All I want is one more hour with you
It's all I ever wanted out of this
I only did it so I would be near you
I have never done something like this.
