

Chin Up

Snowden

I'm throwing away the cameras,
Cause there's nothing good to remember
I stopped loving you years ago, but lately, that's how it goes
"they gave up" get over yourselves, "they gave up"
"they gave up" get over yourselves, get over yourselves
They try to pick you up, but you keep getting stuck
But chin up it's getting better at least you're not starving
Chin up, it's getting better so quit complaining

Build laundromats to replace the burning church
And buy us more cars instead of responsibility
You can pass the blame with the passing of your name,
Or you can drop your baggage
You won't be held responsible for anything, you poor, poor things
So chin up it's getting better at least you're not starving
Chin up, it's getting better so quit complaining
