

Penny

Snowmine

You took my penny and you dropped it down the well.
You thought it was your luck but you it let you down again.
And I blame you.
I blame you.

You took my hand and you lead me off a cliff.
I thought that I could trust, but you let me down again.
And I blame you.
I blame you.

Love please stay just for a minute
I know there's something that you didn't notice
I know you can't stay just for a minute
Cuz you're not that type.

You took my penny and you dropped it down the well.
You thought it was your luck but you it let you down again.
And I blame you.
I blame you.

Love please stay just for a minute
I know there's something that you didn't notice
I know you can't stay just for a minute
Cuz you're not that type.

You said time and time again that I'd make you run away
But I want you, I need you.

Love please stay just for a minute
I know there's something that you didn't notice
I know you can't stay just for a minute
Cuz you're not that type.

Love please stay just for a minute
I know there's something that you didn't notice
I know you can't stay just for a minute
Cuz you're not that type.
