

Cold Night

Socialburn

On these cold nights
The silence never helps it's just a wake up call, a wake up call
And i should've braced myself but what fun would that have been

I would have missed out on feeling
But i'm not gonna let this faze me i've learned the beauty of letting go
And i'm letting you know.

That it's
Alright I'm right here for you forever
On these cold nights i'm right here for you forever.

On these cold nights
I wonder how you make it through
Does he hold you, and does he need you like i do
When you finally find yourself will you have the strength to say
I feel you and god i need you
But I'm not gonna let this phase me cause I've learned the beauty of letting go
But I'm still letting you know.

That it's
Alright i'm right here for you forever
On these cold nights i'm right here for you forever.

I'm not gonna let this phase me [x3].

I've learned
The beauty of letting go
I'm letting you know.

That it's
Alright i'm right here for you forever
On these cold nights I'm right here for you forever.
