Honour the fallen heroes
See their last resting place
Perished in the battle of nations
Where they found eternal peace
Do you know the use of their decorations?
Awarded for patriotism
They left their life in fire
But don't know even why

Remember the fallen Remember the fallen

To the command of despotic dictators

They marched to fight in a senseless war

Most of them were just puppets and children

The battle was lost before it began

Brotherly in heart and hand
Know that they never come back
With combined effort
And the believe in god
Their duty only as cannon fodder
Kamikaze as living bombs
Driven into the open knife
Deceitful and malicious

Remember the fallen Remember the fallen

Their tormented souls will never rest To pay us back for their innocent death No quarter shed our proud blood Retaliation on the warpath
