

Give me patience to wait for another day
Help me hold my tongue, keep the rage away
Nobody seems able to make a change
And I can't believe we're not better than this

I thought we were pass this after we've grown
It's just 18 years since we did this before
For the last time history was only growing strong
We all believe we were better than this
We are not better than this

Can I wake up now?
