

Hello Again

SOiL

Hello again sweet mother
Do you still love me the way you used to
So sorry I didn't turn out
The way you always wanted me to

Tell me your sick and tired
Sick and tired of the way I live my life
You could never understand me
If you could take my hand
Take a look from where I stand
Someday you just might understand...me

Hello again sweet mother
Do you still love me the way you used to
So sorry I didn't turn out
The way you always wanted me to
Hello again sweet mother

Turn me around...upside down again
You don't like my lots in this life
Or the decisions I've made in my time
Why's me being different make a difference to you...why

If I fell down sweet mother
Would you pick me up
Put me on the path of the straight and narrow
