

Loaded Gun

SOiL

Too right to be so wrong too strong well you shoulda known better

Got a mind that's free to be got a heart that'll rage forever
How long how long how long 'til you see what's missing
How long too long how long 'til you trust in me

The truth like a poison pill you push it away you push it away
The truth like a loaded gun you push it away you push it away

You think I'm the only one with emotions like a loaded gun
I'm living blue sky fine with a bullet in the chamber

Tell me how I should act how you think I should be
How long how long how long 'til you know what's missing
Tell me how I frustrate how I make you regret
How long too long how long 'til you stand by me

The truth like a poison pill you push it away you push it away
The truth like a loaded gun you push it away you push it away

You scream I'm the only one with emotions like a loaded gun
Step aside and breathe ashes of reflection
You wish I was more like you well I wish the best for you
I'm living blue sky fine with a bullet in the chamber

Painted portrait of desperation wrapped up tight in blind frustration
It's you you can't see past you you
Days and nights they bleed together tryin' to keep your smile forever
For you you can't see past you you

You scream I'm the only one with emotions like a loaded gun
Step aside and breathe ashes of reflection
You wish I was more like you well I wish the best for you
I'm living blue sky fine with a bullet in the chamber

You scream I'm the only one with emotions like a loaded gun
I'm living blue sky fine with a bullet in the chamber