Breeding Thorns

You have not seen the last of me I'm breeding thorns I'll follow your footsteps down below I will trust all my instincts and bring it home

Does it appeal to you now As a part of the violation? That wherever it takes you You won't be able to choose

I will carry the message It will swallow you whole

You ain't never gonna tell again Caught as the founder of the emptiness It must have made you stocked Whenever my pride was taken Again and again, again and again

Now put your envy in motion One step at a time I wanna see the closure When your access is denied

I will bury the damage I will drench the device

You ain't never gonna tell again Caught as the founder of the emptiness It must have made you stocked Whenever my pride was taken Again and again, again and again

Now, I want you to tell me, tell me again Do you see what I've seen? 'Cause it's so damn obvious to me

Whenever a promise taken Won't you tell me that it's wrong?

You ain't never gonna tell again Caught as the founder of the emptiness It must have made you stocked Whenever my pride was taken Again and again

You ain't never gonna tell again
