King of the Threshold

Soilwork

Choking on nothing Hands turning cold The deeper the mind goes The deeper the hole I'm reaching a point where No one else goes My fate seems to be split in half Can't control it at all Words turn to ashes Comfort won't help Pointless to reach out I'm losing myself All I know is I wish this could end Get rid of this feeling and stop to pretend (Let me) Try to understand as I've (Failed to be) Someone I'm not (It's so real) I've been fooled once again I've been Forced to feel It's like I'm not present It's like I'm not here A voice calls with vengeance I am lost with the fear Searching for meaning, searching within The lust that was broken, has vanished again Feels like a setup with no one to trust The pictures I'm seeing won't leave 'til they're loved (So let me) Try to understand as I've (Failed to be) Someone I'm not (It's so real) I've been fooled once again I've been Forced to feel And now I wonder what's become of me Is it the truth that was found? Whatever it is, I won't respect the sound Of giving things up (Choking on nothing) (Hands turning cold) The deeper the mind goes The deeper the hole

I'm reaching a point where No one else goes

My fate seems to be split in half Can't control it at all (Let me) Try to understand as I've (Failed to be) Someone I'm not (It's so real) I've been fooled once again I've been Forced to feel So let me So let me So let me Fuck it all...
