

Hero & Conqueror

Solar Fake

Hide the secret in your hand, it's getting weaker
There is no new life for rent to start again
Hide your face behind a mask, that's not the game for us
I'm amputating all your dreams, they'll never come true

Will you find me? I am deep inside your train of thought
Try to blind me, but I can always see through your eyes

You're the hero and the conqueror
You left everything behind, even the beauty of your smile
You're the hero and the conqueror
And I'll never follow you, just to stand right by your side

So I buried all the thoughts and all my memories
After rising, you fell down and we met again
And you begged for helping hands and for solutions
But there was nothing left in me except compassion

Can't you find me? I'm too deep inside your train of thought
You can't blind me, 'cause I can always see through your eyes
