

Inside the Circle

Solar Fragment

I have a special gift for you a life of power, owned by few For the good side you will strive but in the end you'll fight the light

Crawling through your veins there is Jedi blood it's your skill to see the future like one sees the past Reckless and self-assured there is so much you must learn Won't you come and take the course apprentice of the Force?

Inside the circle, yet all alone only grief as you leave your mother behind Inside the circle, you're on your own
bound to the prophecy

And as the slave becomes the padawan a black cloud of nightmares keeps torturing his heart I swear I will not fail rage to those who cross my way and so he screamed out at the stars Vengeance is mine

Inside the circle, yet all alone
only grief as a friend and father has died Inside the circle, you're on your own
bound to the prophecy

After all, I face the fact that everyone I love is dead save you, my queen, my love, my bride but through the mist I feel her pain of giving birth and I cannot find a way it's out of sight
Where is the Force to save her life?

Why does the council show you no trust?
Cursed be their ignorance and I can only pray you'll find your way Give in to your anger it makes you wise
Only through me she will survive Come now, Vader, walk with me

Inside the circle, yet all alone
now she's gone and he's slowly drifting away
Inside the circle, you're on your own
bound to the prophecy

Inside the circle, yet all alone
all is lost

and he's slowly drifting away
bound to the prophecy
