

Thunderstorms

Soldiers of Jah Army

I don't know one thing about you not knowing a thing about me Cuz we dropped down into all your thunderstorms and claim it's not your lightning
And now the fire's gone in my eyes grows cold for a while and I don't feel your heat
The words have been said over and around it, but I don't hear no talking, you're talking

So I'll be stopping and I'll be starting, I'll be wondering why we don't know what we do...
And I'm be the same, even if I'm walking by myself
I'm just wondering why...

I never ever saw us clearly, and clearly we're both to blame But silence and progress were my thing
and your thing was calling my name
Now you can see your whole life without me
I'm quietly in mine without You
The distances of continents, phone calls offsetting now, Something's that I guess I can't do,

I'll be stoppin' and I'll be startin'
I'll be wondering why we don't know what we do and I'm be the same even if I'm walkin' by myself I'm just wonderin' why .

My name remains pisoner trapped and my world is gone.
And I'm the only one who still lives here,
and I've got all the lights off So you can stop and visit me in my cell and we can talk if we've got the time
then you can start to go on your way
Cuz I believe I've found mine...

So I'll be stoppin' and I'll be startin'
I'll be wondering why we don't know what we do
I'm be the same even if I'm walkin' by myself I'm just wonderin' why we don't know

And I'll be stoppin' and I'll be startin'

I'll be wondering why we don't know what we do
I'll be the same, even if I'm walkin' alone I'll be wonderin' why.
