

Shattered My Spirit

Solitude Aeternus

"Leave me now my weary soul
Like the rain of sorrow falls
Through the cracks of crumbling stone
Deep within my walls

See me now my empty life
Throw away all your lies
The tears for all the angels
Will never reach the sky

The shadow and the sun
Are no longer one
Have I lost the light?
Shatter my Spirit tonight

I've given all that I can give
It never seemed enough
My blood is in this fire
Burning all my trust

Another face of a sunless day
Another moonless night
I must surrender to the dream
I can no longer fight

I cannot pretend...
This is the end

So leave me now my weary soul
My sorrow here is spent
These foolish lies that we deny
Are taking all we give"