

Aberration

Solstice

Solace extinguished by the horror of existence
Problems upsurge from
Which there seems no escape
In this senseless world
Solutions seem unattainable
Negativity begins to overcome
My thoughts become irrational

How much pain can I possibly
Bare with such a young soul?
Anger increases, morality decreases
I tap my darker psyche....

From the time I departed my troubles
To the time we meet again
Anger has been blotted out by pain...

How much pain can I possibly
Bare with such a young soul?
Anger increases, morality decreases
I tap my darker psyche....
Into the depths of my depravity
Surfacing into your world obsessed with hate
Disturbed, no longer knowing right from wrong
Terminate, my patience reached it's end...
From the time I departed my troubles
To the time we meet again
Anger has been blotted out by pain...

How much pain can I possibly bare with such a young soul?
Plummeting into the depths of depravity
Surfacing into your world obsessed with hate

From the time I departed my troubles
To the time we meet again
Anger has been blotted out by pain...
