

Jerry Stand Up

Something for Kate

Jerry stand up
Pull back the curtains and let some light in
Quit your job
Becasue you hate it and it's wasting you

Once upon a time you were running
Singing to the ground every morning
Once upon a time you were

Jerry stand up
Am i the only one who's noticed that you've been missing
Remember yourself man
Remember that you have chance and possibility

Once upon a time you were running
Singing to the ground every morning
Once upon a time you were crazy

Jerry
You're not getting any younger
All you need is fresh air
A nice new suit and a walk in the park every day or two
Every day in every way
