Something for Kate

So you dance and you shuffle into the eye of the storm
Your eyes all on fire as if you've been here before
And you say it's all nothing, but tell yourself quiet
But I hear you for miles breathing differently
And when it all falls down

You won't just stand there looking at the ground
And holding your breath, holding out

So you drive 'till the water changes from blue to green
And you wait there until the wind knocks you out of your body
You can stay there forever counting the stars
Trying to separate yourself from how things are
But you know you won't get very far until it all falls down

So don't just stand there looking at the ground
And holding your breath, holding out
