

Virtue And Wine

Sondre Lerche

Summer killed the ones you loved
I hesitate and tell you
When people leave without goodbye
I lose another brick
The buildings are tall
The world explains all
And here I stand and face myself:
I lead the way for us

I've frozen down my memory
It's morning when she gets up
She puts on Lionel Ritchie
I've already had enough
The queues are long
Guess I am wrong
This chemical environment is getting out of hand

Virtue and wine cannot help you swim
Pain and sorrow must come
If you go

It's the chemistry and the things we shouldn't do
I am nothing without you
