

Crowned in Despair

Sonic Syndicate

She was the night, night of retribution
A persona not right, blood of pollution
He was the day, day of solution
Shaped like clay, he was led astray

I would die for you, if you care for me
Tomorrow there`s another crimson dawn
I`ll watch it alone, upon the lost throne
Crowned in despair
I would bleed for you, if you stay with me
Tomorrow there`s another endless night
I`ll walk it alone, along the lost road
Crowned in despair

Couldn`t see through her lies, every inch of me dies
Haunted by her face, my memory can`t be replaced
My heart's torn asunder, and maybe life's going under
But I know this will only make me stronger

It was never your fault, mind ghosts clouded my view
It was nothing you did, just couldn`t help my insecurity from shining through
