

Moment Of Glory

Sonicflood

Woke up this morning to a holy invitation
My eyes were opened to a world of inspiration
I felt the wind blow on my face, I felt the sunlight of Your grace
Woke up this morning with a child-like fascination

Just like the stars shining at night
You are the sun that gives me light
Raising my hands up to the sky
I'm breathing in the breath of life, in this moment of glory, moment of glory

There's something radical about this revelation
There's something magical about the cloud formations
I see Your glory in this place, I feel the mystery of Your grace
There's something wonderful about this transformation

Just like the stars shining at night
You are the sun that gives me light
Raising my hands up to the sky
I'm breathing in the breath of life, in this moment of glory, moment of glory

I can see Your glory
I can see Your glory

In this moment of

Woke up this morning to a holy invitation
In this moment

Just like the stars shining at night
You are the sun that gives me light
Raising my hands up to the sky
I'm breathing in the breath of life

Just like the stars shining at night
You are the sun that gives me light
Raising my hands up to the sky
I'm breathing in the breath of life, in this moment of glory, moment of glory
In this moment of glory, moment of glory
