

Rushing In

Sonicflood

I feel like I've gone astray
Just like a runaway
From the grip of Your love
It's not that I wanted to
It's not like I tried to do it that way
I've found there's no distance too far
That could change who You are
That could turn You away
Your love comes rushing in
Pouring over me
I know when I come running
You're there for me
There's no way that I could ever lose my way
I know I'm a captive in Your arms
In the grip of Your grace
Every day Your mercy's new
And there's nothing I can do to earn Your love
I believe what You say
Trust in You
And know Your grace is more than enough
There's no mountain so high
No river so wide
That could ever keep me from You
