How Many Time Can A Man Be A Fool

Sonny James

How many times will I believe what you say? How many minutes can you counted every day? How many times will I forgive you when you're cruel? How many times can a man be a fool?

I'd like to leave you, I'd like to go today But if I leave you, I know I couldn't stay I'd crawl back though I know you've broken every rule How many times can a man be a fool?

I'd walk away but I'd melt when you speak I'd walk away but your kiss leaves me weak I'd get so mad with myself for acting meek When will I learn not to turn the other cheek?

How many heartaches will come before I'm through How many lies till I turn back on you I guess, the answers one will never teach in school How many times can a man be a fool? I guess, the answers one will never teach in school How many times can a man be a fool?
