

Where Do We Go From Here

Sonny James

All the sad songs, all the bad words, all the hurts and all the tears

This is all that's left of us, where do we go from here?

All our memories now are bitter, our sweet days now lonely years

This is all that's left of us, where do we go from here?

Where do we go from the ashes of the flame that burn so bright?

Where do we go from the darkness that's deeper than any night?

All our love songs now are echoes, all our smiles now lonely tears

This is all that's left of us, where do we go from here

(All our love songs now are echoes)

All our smiles now lonely tears

This is all that's left of us, where do we go from here?

This is all that's left of us, where do we go from here?