

Nocturne

Sophie B. Hawkins

Nightmare bring me to the dawn
I must ride your body on Deep inside me I know you can't hide me from harm
I'm the secret that you bear
Born of anger and despair
Who will strangle me
Who will untangle my hair

Come to me I can see
Through the holes in your eyes
When I scream out in terror
You're the one by my side
Run to me strong and pure
As the monster's child
We've been captured for a lifetime
But we're free when we're wild

Sleep my little darling
Don't
You
Cry
for mamma
She's all gone
Nightmare came and took her in his arms
Find your dark horse
And ride on your course
Through the storm

Lay me down you can see
Through the rain in my eyes
That I've no more to lose
And I've nothing to hide
Playing in midnight fields
Of dreams exiled
We are strangers in the city
But we're free when we're wild
