

The Deer & the Wolf

Sophie Ellis-Bextor

Oh the deer and the wolf
They never try to get along
But they need each other
It's an unknown rule

One waits in the dark
While the other seeks light
But they both have hearts
That break in the night

Come away, come away darling
Look at how we are
See yourselves reflected in a river
Guess that's the hardest part

On and on in all my life
Agree to disagree
Under the surface it's universal
The opposites degree
We're only in tune
When we're chasing the moon
But under the sun I'm hunted just like you

Oh the deer and the wolf
I think they wanna get along
Cause they need each other
Or the world is done

One take the grain
One's the carnivore
Such a gentile harm
To see the sharpest claws

Come away, come away darling
Look at how we are
See yourselves reflected in a river
Guess that's the hardest part

On and on in all my life
Agree to disagree
Under the surface it's universal
The opposites degree
We're only in tune
When we're chasing the moon
But under the sun I'm hunted just like you

On and on, on and on
On and on, on and on

And the deer and the wolf
We really wanna get along
We're in this together
You're the only one

On and on in all my life
Agree to disagree

The opposites degree
We're only in tune

Hunted just like you
I'm hunted just like you
