

Churchbell

Sophie Zelmani

Churchbell, stop your ringing so loud in my ears I won't forget what I've told you but I have no rush from here I'm speaking from the bottom almost from the other side I'm feeling my thanksgiving coming through and wide Churchbell, stop ringing

When you've left your yearnings life can take you by surprise I am stranded with your warning how I could lose my eye

I couldn't reach my father but he let me understand that he has opened up for others who'll lift me up again So churchbell, stop ringing stop ringing don't ring me out of here If it isn't for a wedding hold your call on me I'm just about to put my finger on something that's on its way to me

So churchbell
