

Song Of The Night

Sophie Zelmani

This must be my last song for you All of me is in there I'll call it what I've been calling you You're the song of the night

Nobody knows that you are here In my mind I've got to do something else Than let you take my time

You are the song of the night I've got to fade out You are the song of the night

You know that you're always here I've spoken many times With you, I've always been sincere Though the weight of you looks blind

You are the song of the night I've got to fade out You are the song of the night
