

Lead Me

Soraya

don't say a word there's no language that can tell you how I feel just hold me in your arms and let me melt away and disappear close your eyes and let me strip away the layers off my soul I've lost my way and now I'm trusting you to come to take control will you wait for me? tonight I am weak I don't often follow but this time I need you to lead lead me to water and fire lead to touch higher ground lead me to walk across the wire look ahead but never down with your love I won't fall down...