

Lonely For You

Soul Asylum

Barefoot and pregnant she tries not to bend
The ear of the doctor's not much of a friend
The doctor's on location missing his kids
And wondering where she went to live

Spend time alone and look after your life
Remember your loved ones, your boyfriends, your wives
And if you are lonely and she's lonely too
Then she will stay lonely for you

Yes, she will stay lonely for you

Come what may, come someday
And she will stay lonely for you

Patiently waiting for taxis to come
To take you away from all you have become
The driver tells stories like he's your best friend
And you hope the ride never ends

To all of the ones who have got no one else
Who keep their own time and look after themselves
Someday you'll meet someone lonely as you
And he will stay lonely for you

Yes, he will stay lonely for you

Come what may, come someday
And I I will stay lonely for you

I will stay lonely for you
