

Heaven's Gate

Souldrainer

They came from outer space centuries ago to save the human race. They called themselves Ti and Do

The journey began in the nineteen seventies To reach another level of existence above human

They had to leave the earth. It was time to go Renewal and recycling of the globe Their human bodies were their vessels which they later on left to help them on the journey into the unknown

Thirty people take their lives to follow Marshall to his grave
Suicide solution to it all is the end
Smothered, laying on the bed, poisoned to their deaths
Bodies covered up in cheats getting colder every day

1997 a gloomy day in March Marshall and his friends decided it was time to follow the shuttle hiding in the light and they would now advance to the next level in revolution

Ti was gone since years ago even though they claimed to need their bodies to move on into the Heaven's Gate She died from human cancer to which she couldn't get and still they thought Marshall was right and marched with him to death

Thirty people take their lives to follow Marshall to
Suicide solution to it all is the end
Smothered, laying on the bed, poisoned to their deaths
Bodies covered up in cheats getting colder every day
