Grave New World

Soulfallen

A dying wind upon the lifeless A bleeding soil beneath the slain Welcome to a world beyond tomorrow Witness the stillness that haunts the day

Open your eyes to a sight that is foul Renounce the false hope that only festers the soul:

A world enslaved to a grand design with the dead leading the blind!

Tear open your dreams, your loss will be nill Cast no blame upon the coroner for the kill So leave me be, shine away your Sun For your world was dead before I begun...

(bury your dreams - bury the world)

So bury your dreams, along with the world Leave no trace nor mark upon the earth And let go of this one, For this world was dead long before I begun...

Open your eyes to a sight that is foul... And lo. A Grave New World!
