

By My Side

Soulsavers

Another long drive
Strange, weary night
Streets are bare
You are by my side

The dashboard lights
Glow they underline
All in my line of sight
What's on my mind tonight

Nothing should change
Soon we'll see
Shifting the blame from you to me
Search all the while
Find a place called home
To fall apart and rest my weary bones

But how?
How?
But how?
How?

It often feels I'll never change
And when this curse has gone away
It often feels I'll never change

Days into weeks
Lost what I did seep
When the edges blur
Lose the urge to speak
It often feels
I'll never get away
Wounds that never heal
Thoughts that always stray

Nothing has changed, soon we'll see
Shifting the pain from you to me
Search all the while
Found a place called home
I can fall apart
And rest my weary bones

But how?
How?

I'll never change
I'll pull away

Another long drive
Strange, weary night
All the streets are bare
You are by my side
You are by my side
By my side
By my side
By my side
