

You Owe Me

Soulsavers

I'm back where I came from
A sour reminder of how hard I've tried
I'm under your spell
I'm holding so tight
I feel cold and dishevelled
I'm as blue as your eyes

When lights go up
A hand comes down
You know you owe me
You know you owe me

You've come to the end
The end of the road
Exceeding the limits
As far as you can go
There's no room here
And nowhere left to hide
No particular reason
Just fully surprised

When lights go up
A hand comes down
You know you owe me
You know you owe me

You gave me hope
All that I could be
I'm easy to hold but so hard to please
You gave me hope
All that I could be
Easy to hold but so hard to please

When lights go up
A hand comes down
Angels are singing
It's a beautiful sound
When lights go up
A hand comes down
Bells are ringing
It's a beautiful sound

You know you owe me
You know you owe me
You know you owe me
You know you owe me
