

So Long Ago

Soulsister

I can remember
Too many times
When losing my temper
Was the least of my crimes

The road is long and steep
And the faith so hard to keep

But it will seem, so long ago
Yes it well seem so long ago
One day

Life can be tricky
You see your mistakes
But your lifeboat is stranded
In a frozen lake

It's an old and weary song
And it just keeps dragging on

But it will seem, so long ago
Yes it well seem so long ago
It will seem, honey I know
It will seem, so long ago

The road is long and steep
And the faith so hard to keep

But it will seem, so long ago
Yes it well seem so long ago
It will seem, honey I know
It will seem
As if we'd never been
Close enough, bad enough
To hit one another where it hurts
It will seem
So long ago

One day
It'll all be behind us baby
