

Try My Luck Again

Soulsister

I should have stayed with you
Should have been wiser
And I still am wondering why
I have let you down

The grass was not greener there
There was no one to care for
All the things I left behind
The same questions all the time

Let me try my luck again
Let me fall in love again
There's a lot of things to forget
But baby, take me back

There's so many memories
Hanging over my mind
And my heart is aching for you
Can you hear it crying too ?

Let me try my luck again
Let me fall in love again
There's a lot of things to forget
But baby, take me back

Every hour of the day
I've been missing you
Now all that's left for me to say is
Give me one more chance

Let me try my luck again
Let me fall in love again
There's a lot of things to forget
But baby, take me back