

Wind

Soulstice

As the winds blows my heart knows
As the wind blows through the trees
My heart is stirring like the leaves
Even as the rain falls from the sky

Clouds fills my eyes and I wonder why
Wonder in a sense of amazement and awe
At how life begins
It never seems to never to cease

In it's educating reminding awakening us
From the things that we think that we know
As the wind blows
My heart knows

As the wind blows through the trees
My heart is stirring like the leaves
Even as fires flames burning bright
I feel my soul is my guiding light

I wonder in a sense of amusement and awe
At how life evolves
It never seems to never cease
In it's elevating redefining awakening us

From the things that we think that we know
I thought I knew I thought I knew
As the wind blows my heart knows
As the wind blows through the trees
My heart is stirring like the leaves